Nationalists Leaders Endorse Cease-Fire

Red Silence Makes Peace Prospect Dim

Nanking, Jan. 20—(AP)—China's Nationalist party leadership endorsed a cease-fire resolution today, but government double-talk and Communist silence made peace prospects as dim as ever.

In North China, terms for surrendering Peiping to the Reds were reported accepted "in principle" by both sides, but nothing had been done to implement this separate deal.

On the war fronts, the Communists maintained their close siege of Peiping and were edging steadily south of the old Hwai river line 100 miles north of Nanking.

Officials Flee South
Principal civil war activity, however, was the hastened flight of government departments and officials southward from Nanking—a movement which was difficult to reconcile with talk of a negotiated peace.

The Kuomintang (Nationalist party) Central Political Council endorsed Wednesday's resolution of the executive Yuan (cabinet) urging a cease-fire and negotiations with the dominant Communists.

Although the political council is a party and not a governmental body, no important step ever is taken without its approval.

However, President Chiang Kai-shek did not attend the meeting, and it is upon his personal decision that any concrete action will depend.

Asked what the next step in the Nationalist "peace offensive" might be, Shen Chang-Huan, government spokesman, replied:

Reds Must Talk First
"So far as the government is concerned there will not be one until the Communists have expressed their desires for a similar halt in hostilities."

"Then, and only then, the National government will consider ordering a cease-fire and sending a delegation to discuss negotiations."

The Communists have been silent since Jan. 14, when they broadcast peace terms amounting to a demand for unconditional surrender of the government.

Pressed for a statement on Chiang's attitude, the spokesman said "it may be presumed" that Chiang knew of the cease-fire resolution before it was adopted.

"The resolution indicates the stand of the government," the spokesman said. "I think both the president and the executive Yuan are part of the government."

Cause Advanced Little
If National officials plan no more action towards peace than thus far taken, then the cause appears to have advanced little since Chiang's New Year statement calling for peace on his own terms—obviously unacceptable to the Reds.

A survey of the diplomatic corps found most still "awaiting instructions" from home whether to follow the government south or stay in Nanking.

The Chinese foreign office spokesman meanwhile confirmed that the United States, Britain, France and Russia had declined a government plea that they attempt to initiate mediation with the Communists.

From isolated Peiping, Associated Press Correspondent Spencer Moosa reported a local agreement "in principle" for surrender of that old northern capital and the northwestern city of Kwei-sui, but said no action had been taken.

Non-prosecution by the Reds of Gen. Fu Tso-Yi as a war criminal was one of the principal provisions.

Says Soviets May Have Enough U238 For Atomic Power

Washington, Jan. 20—(AP)—Russian discoveries of uranium in central Asia in the last ten years might be sufficient for developing atomic power there, a Harvard researcher said today.

D. B. Shlimkin of Harvard's Russian research center also declared in "Science" magazine that possibilities exist for discovery of "significant uranium deposits" associated with a certain kind of granite in an area of Siberia, and also in the Ukraine.

He said, "Soviet discoveries of uranium in central Asia within the last decade, while in no sense approaching the great significance of the African and Canadian deposits, appear to provide a possible basis for the development of atomic power in that area."

MORE CATTLE
Springfield, Ill., Jan. 20—(AP)—Cattle fattening on Illinois farms is on the increase, the state-federal agriculture departments reported today.

About 475,200 cattle and calves were on grain feed for market on Jan. 1, or 12 percent over a year ago.

20 Asian Nations Meet To Help Free Indonesia

New Delhi, India, Jan. 20—(AP)—Speakers representing various Asian countries unanimously demanded today the establishment of Indonesian independence.

Many of them also indicated that their 20-nation conference here might develop into a vast regional organization similar to the Pan American union. Such a body, it was said, could be set up within the framework of the United Nations.

The conference was called to protest Dutch military action against the young Indonesian Republic. Delegates selected a committee to prepare a resolution of the U.N. Security Council dealing with the setting up of an interim Indonesian government.

Australia, Pakistan, Ceylon and India were named to the committee.

India submitted a paper proposing that all fighting on Java and Sumatra be stopped, Republican leaders freed and Netherlands troops withdrawn to positions held before the Dutch operation against the Republic was launched in mid-December.

The paper also suggested that the interim government be set up by March 15, a constituent assembly elected by Oct. 1 and a complete transfer of power be made to the new government by next Jan. 1.

Conference leaders who stressed the idea of a regional Asian organization said such a body is needed to represent what Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India referred to as "half the circumference of the globe and the greater part of its population."

Precedent for such an organization exists in the regional arrangements now found in the western hemisphere and western Europe, the delegates were told.

Nehru spoke of the need for "machinery by which members of the present conference could implement decisions."

Georgia Defeats Bill To Outlaw Hoods In Klan
Atlanta, Jan. 20—(AP)—A bill to outlaw hoods and masks, Eerie symbols of the Ku Klux Klan, was defeated in the Georgia House today after the secret order was defended as a "glorious symbol."

After two hours of stormy debate, the Georgia house voted 89 to 65 to postpone the measure indefinitely.

Rep. John Greer, a foe of Gov. Herman Talmadge, introduced the bill and won support from some Talmadge supporters. But a majority of the Talmadge camp either didn't vote or joined Rep. Frank Twitty of Mitchell, floor leader, in throttling the bill.

Independence, Mo., Has Worst Fire In Its History
Independence, Mo., Jan. 20—(AP)—President Truman's hometown had one of its worst fires in its more than 100-year-old history today but that didn't stop its inauguration celebration.

Residents went ahead and danced at an inaugural ball just as planned before a pre-dawn fire destroyed a half block of business buildings only eight blocks from the summer White House.

The fire still was a holiday for Independence's 40,000 residents. But they did have to call the parade off because it was necessary to rope off part of the courthouse square as a result of the fire.

It took 10 fire companies, all of Independence's and five from nearby Kansas City, to bring the flames under control in a three-hour battle in near zero temperatures.

Veteran Fire Chief D. A. Kincaid called it the worst fire in Independence in his 40 years of firefighting here. He estimated the damage at $409,000.

Victim Of Sales Rush Sues Store
Scranton, Pa., Jan. 20—(AP)—A Lackawanna county jury had this puzzle today:

Is a department store responsible for a customer injured in a sales rush?

Evelyn Yavorski of Scranton brought suit against a Scranton apparel shop seeking $10,000 for injuries she claims were sustained during a "sales rush" in the store.

Soviet Ambassador Shows No Emotion Over Address
Washington, Jan. 20—(AP)—Alexander Panyushkin, the Soviet ambassador to the United States, has one of the world's finest poker faces.

President Truman lashed out at communism in his inaugural address today. But if it had any effect on Panyushkin, seated 20 feet behind Mr. Truman, he didn't show it.

Communism was wrong, said Mr. Truman, when it decided that wrongs can be corrected by violence.

"Democracy has proved," he continued, "that social justice can be achieved through peaceful change."

The Soviet ambassador's face displayed no more emotion than if Mr. Truman were discussing the weather, which was windy but nice.

As for the inaugural itself, it was quite a show.

Maybe you can best visualize it, if you think of your own county seat Fourth of July speech-making, and then multiply by 1,000.

Berlin Reds Put In Hand Picked Rump Parliament

Berlin Jan. 20—(AP)—The hand-picked communist government of eastern Berlin appointed a rump city parliament today as a substitute for an elected body which had been promised.

Fritz Elbert, the Soviet-backed "mayor," revived two favorite demands of the Russian propaganda machine in an address:

1—Withdrawal of all occupation troops.

2—Establishment of a government for all Germany.

Whether these themes had any immediate significance was not discernable. Elbert submitted a written program for his government and the rump parliament approved it promptly.

Western Berliners, who elected a city assembly last December, called the new communist parliament "ersatz," the German word for phony.

Communists named their rump parliament a "bloc presidium" and working committee. Anti-communists said it was obviously designed to give some pretense of support for the separate government the communists set up by a show of hands in a theater last November.

Chicago Crooks Did $13 Million Business In 1948
Chicago, Jan. 20—(AP)—Burglars, robbers and thieves had a profitable, dishonest year in Chicago during 1948. They did a $13,386,486 business in loot.

A survey of police files today showed burglars pocketed the lion's share of criminal loot. There were 11,743 burglaries, averaging $404 each for the burglars.

Robbers took an average of $288 a hold-up in 5,595 robberies. There were 16,783 larcenies, netting thieves an average $98.50 per larceny.

These three crimes took place at the average of 95 a day during 1948. About 36 percent of the total loot was recovered by police and returned to the owners.

Automobile thieves made off with 3,400 cars worth $5,375,450. Police recovered 2,775 of these.

Convict French Lecturer On Love On Morals Charge
Los Angeles, Jan. 20—(AP)—Claude Marsan, who imported his love making techniques from France for lecture tours in America, was found guilty today of presenting and participating in an obscene show.

Also convicted was his attractive red-haired model, Miss Barbara Weir, 24, who helped the self-styled "love expert" demonstrate kisses and embraces at a show which police raided last Nov. 19.

A jury of nine women and three men deliberated a little more than an hour before convicting each of presenting and participating in a show "tending to corrupt the morals of youth and others."

The prosecution contended the audience at an auditorium adjoining a beer parlor consisted mainly of college students.

Marsan and Miss Weir climaxed their defense with a reenactment of their show for the jury. Marsan gave his lecture, which included an intimate discussion of sexual matters, and then he and Miss Weir demonstrated what he called the American and French ways of wooing.

Says It Will Take 8 Yrs. To Develop Color Television
Chicago, Jan. 20—(AP)—The popular use of color television, a Northwestern university scientist said tonight, is at least eight more years away.

Arthur B. Brownell, professor of electrical engineering in the technological institute, said color television is practical now, but that the cost of receivers would be "several times" that of black and white sets.

Prof. Brownell, who holds basic patents on a system of color television, said the two fundamental color television methods developed so far involve elaborate and complicated receiving systems.

Man Wants Tough Rooster-Quick
Decatur, Ill., Jan. 20—(AP)—Ralph Colburn's hatchery received a plea for help today from a Montana chicken raiser.

He wants a rooster—a tough one. Enclosing a money order for $7, he wrote:

"My neighbors have large, fighting roosters which get into my flock and beat up my roosters. I would like to have one that could defend my flock. Also please send any information you have on the training of this rooster."

Colburn did not identify the Montana man. He said he was writing the chicken raiser that he has only baby chicks for sale.

Truman Asks Aid To World's Needy In Inaugural Speech

Over Million See Capital's Biggest Show

Washington, Jan. 20—(AP)—The mightiest crowd and the greatest parade in the history of famous Pennsylvania avenue hailed Harry S. Truman's inauguration today.

The chief of police estimated that 1,000,000 people saw the parade. The estimate seemed exceptionally liberal, since the parade route was only a mile and a half long.

The temperature wasn't far above freezing and there was a wintry wind. Nevertheless the crowd maintained a holiday mood.

Crowd Rears
Block by block, they roared out a warm and friendly greeting at the first sight of Mr. Truman.

Mostly solemn of face, the silk-hatted president rode beside Vice President Alben W. Barkley at the head of the parade, from the Capitol to the White House.

There they and their families dismounted to watch the rest of the procession from special stands.

It was almost 1 p.m. (CST), about an hour late, when the parade got started.

Heralding the vast procession, six mighty B-36 bombers thundered at the head of an armada of some 700 military planes of all types. They pointed northwesterly along the parade route.

Never Before Matched
Washington had never seen anything to match it.

Grand Marshal Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, behind cycling riding police led the parade just ahead of the president and vice president. Members of congress, in the inaugural stands, gave them a hearty cheer.

The Capitol plaza throngs sent up a roar.

A third car carried Mrs. Truman and daughter Margaret.

The presidential salute could be heard booming out from a distance.

Mr. Truman talked frequently with Barkley as they rode along. Together they waved to the crowds.

There was hand clapping and frequent "Hi Harry" greetings from the throngs standing in deep rows behind steel cables.

Periscope Sell At $1
Many unable to see used mirrors as periscopes. Alert hawkers got $1 apiece for them.

Mr. Truman turned occasionally to voice a greeting to some member of his old World War I, Battery D, which formed a guard of honor on each side of his car.

The top hats of the two leaders glistened. It was an unusually bright day.

At the White House, the president's natural jollity quickly asserted itself. Sitting beside Mr. Barkley, occasionally munching sandwiches, he seemed to get a lot of fun from recognizing old friends in the procession.

Thin Smile For Thurmond
But there was barely a smile on the presidential lips when Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina rode past. Thurmond was the States' Rights party candidate for president. Barkley waved though.

Margaret Truman told reporters "I'm almost frozen" as she took her seat in the reviewing stand.

At 2:58, Mrs. Truman, Margaret and Mrs. Max Truitt, Barkley's daughter, had had enough. They got up and left the reviewing stand. That was a cue for others to do so. But the Truman-Barkley team stuck it out, taking occasional sips of hot drinks.

Indiana Senate Honors Memory Of Gallup Poll
Indianapolis, Jan. 20—(AP)—The Indiana Senate, with a Republican majority, stood for a minute today in tribute "to the memory of Dr. George Gallup."

Just before the Senate recessed to hear a broadcast of President Truman's inaugural, Sen. Harold Handley, Republican from LaPorte, moved that the lawmakers stand in memory of the poll director.

The senators laughed heartily and then Republicans and Democrats alike stood up.

The Gallup poll had indicated a victory for Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee, in last November's presidential election.

Only 5,300 Of Many Get To Attend Ball

Washington, Jan. 20—(AP)—Every body wanted to dance at President Truman's inaugural ball tonight, but only 5,300 got to.

The fire department turned the rest away.

The capital's fire ladders are not snobbish. They would have been happy if they could have admitted all the Democrats in town (roughly 1,000,000) into the District of Columbia armory to waltz, samba or rumba. Even if many of the distinguished guests and their dills did look as if they would be more familiar with the Charleston, the Bunny hug, or the mazurka.

But fire regulations say a maximum of 5,300 persons in the armory, and 5,300 it was.

The committee which arranged the ball sort of lost track sending out the invitations, mailing some 8,600 or 10,000 bids. To the committee's surprise, almost every recipient replied "yes, thanks, he'd love to come. Some of them: came from across the continent."

This wasn't just another Washington dance. It was a ball with a capital B. The President let it be known long ago that he'd be there, with his wife, Bess, and daughter Margaret. Foreign diplomats accepted too, along with Supreme Court justices, cabinet members and most of the high brass in the army, navy and air force.

A revolving stage made it possible for Benny Goodman's, Xavier Cugat's and Guy Lombardo's orchestra to spell one another at 20 minute intervals.

White tie formalities sent many heretofore plain citizens scurrying to the dress suit rental garages. The ladies shot the works on ball gowns, many of them specially designed for the occasion.

Mrs. Truman selected black panne velvet with a wide circular collar encrusted with hand-drawn Alencon lace. The President's daughter wore a gown of "Margaret pink" tulle and satin brocade.

Mrs. Max Truitt, Vice President Barkley's daughter and official hostess, chose heavy black satin bearing a chrysanthemum design embroidered in gold thread.

Wounds Rival As He Sits In Movie With Girl Friend
Canton, Ill., Jan. 20—(AP)—Two persons were slightly wounded in a theater today when a disgruntled suitor fired a pot shot at his rival.

John Tovrea, 20, an ex-marine, was lodged in Fulton county jail at nearly Lewistown, charged with assault with intent to kill. Police Chief Tom Harris said Tovrea admitted the shooting in an oral statement.

Wounded were Robert Pugh, 19, and a woman whose name was not immediately learned.

Harris gave this account of the shooting:

Tovrea timed firing of the gun to fit in with the action of the movie, "Duel In The Sun." He fired a .25 caliber automatic pistol from his seat two rows behind his rival just as a carload of dynamite exploded in the movie.

The bullet creased the right side of Pugh's head and out his right ear. Pugh was in the company of Rogine Williams, 19, over whose long Pugh and Tovrea were at odds, and her sister, Ruth, 26. The unidentified woman was slightly wounded when the spent bullet struck her ankle.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 20—(AP)—Mrs. Lucille Kemp has a set of triplets to add today to the two sets of twins born to her previously. Two boys and a girl born Tuesday night in a hospital are doing nicely.

TRUMAN HEARD IN MOSCOW
Moscow, Jan. 20—(AP)—The broadcast of President Truman's inaugural was heard clearly here today. The Voice of America relay reception was excellent on short wave.

Midcontinent Gets Another Cold Wave From Canada
Chicago, Jan. 20—(AP)—A new cold wave from Canada pushed into the midcontinent today, but weather-harried California and the midwest got a respite.

However, floods, the aftermath of heavy snows, spilled over some Washington lowlands in Illinois. Scores of families were reported marooned at Three Forks, Mont., where a dike in the Madison river has broken.

The new cold wave enveloped Montana and Wyoming and spread eastward into Kansas and Nebraska. The weather bureau issued special warnings to stockmen in the areas.

Overnight temperatures as low as 40 below zero were forecast for parts of Montana and the mercury was expected to drop to 20 or 25 below in Nebraska. Blowing and drifting snow was expected to accompany the cold.

At the snow-locked Pine Ridge Indian reservation in South Dakota, disaster units of the army and Red cross were flying medical supplies, food and fuel in an improvised air-

Says Help Will Save Millions From Reds

Washington, Jan. 20—(AP)—Harry S. Truman came into his own as 32nd president of the United States today—and solemnly called for a great crusade to save the world from Communism by easing the suffering of poverty-ridden millions.

In his inaugural address, he urged the United States and other nations with technical know-how to join in raising the standards of living of the world's "free peoples." Guarantees—presumably government guarantees—to private investors who will do their part were a salient point in the vast program he outlined.

In blunt and scornful tones, the President lashed out against communism as a "false philosophy" and a "binder of war." The nation, he said, is entering a period that will be "eventful, perhaps decisive, for us and for all the world."

Standing under sparkling, sunny skies, Mr. Truman took the oath for a new, four-year term at 11:29 a.m., CST, before an estimated crowd of 130,000 spectators massed on the capital plaza.

A few minutes earlier, Senator Alben W. Barkley, 71-year-old Kentuckian who was born in a log cabin, had been sworn in as vice president.

Promptly at 11:30 p.m., while batteries of radio microphones carried his words out across the country and to foreign lands, the one-time Missouri farm boy who became president launched into a fighting speech against communism and for "peace, plenty and freedom."

The great throng volleys applause as Mr. Truman, pitting the blessings of Democracy against the evils of Red marxism, declared with outburst jaw:

Declares U.S. Policy
"The American people stand firm in the faith which has inspired this nation from the beginning. From this faith we will not be moved."

Television cameras caught the dramatic spectacle for the first time in history. Networks beamed the scene to video listeners throughout the east and as far west as the Mississippi river.

Wearing a cutaway coat, grey-striped trousers and grey four-in-hand tie, the 64-year-old president took the brief oak under a glistening white light-columned portico on the east side of the capitol, directly under the great dome and the green-bronzed statue of freedom at its top.

He took off his overcoat and white silk scarf, a moment before the ceremony, and stood bareheaded in the cold wind, facing southeast toward the sun.

Cracking bursts of applause greeted the President's indictment of communism—undoubtedly his strongest pronouncement on foreign policy since he took over the White House upon the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt, April 12, 1945.

Each time he spoke the word "communism," his voice was loaded with angry scorn.

"Communism," he said, "holds that the world is so widely divided into opposing classes that war is inevitable."

"Democracy holds that free nations can settle differences justly and maintain lasting peace."

Then he went on to propose a four-point program of action, pledging:

Four Point Program
1. "Unflinching support" to the United Nations.

2. Continued aid for world economic recovery.

3. Support—including military aid—to bolster freedom-loving nations "against aggression."

4. A "bold new program" to help the world's needy areas.

This last point was the new element in his speech. More than half the world's people are miserable, poverty-stricken, disease ridden, he said.

Though the material resources of the United States is limited, it and other nations can pool their "technical knowledge" and work through the United Nations to help free peoples raise their living standards.

LANA GOES HOME
New York, Jan. 20—(AP)—Screen actress Lana Turner left Doctors Hospital today, eight days after she had a miscarriage there.

The actress, wife of millionaire Henry H. Topping, went directly to their Greenwich, Conn., home.

WEATHER
The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau, yesterday reported the temperatures for Thursday as follows: High, 25; low, 3 above; and at 8 p.m., 25.

Forecast for Illinois—Considerable cloudiness with rise in temperature, Friday, High 32 to 36.

TRUMAN HAS CHANCE TO SPEAK AGAINST DUTCH, BRITISH ACTIONS

Mr. Truman is said to feel more confidence and to speak with more authority now that he is President by popular choice rather than by succession. If, as the American nation's elected spokesman, he will now transfer that confidence and authority to some world problems confronting him, he has the opportunity and power to rise above politics and speak for humanity and justice.

The tension in Indonesia and Palestine offers the opportunity. Here, for the first time since the war's end, two friendly, democratic powers are deeply involved in situations outside the great struggle between Russia and the West. In one case the issue is colonialism. In the other it is nationalism and preservation of the status quo.

The issue also, in a broader sense, is the future of the United Nations and of world peace. The United States can be the major influence in deciding that issue. But it may require some hard-boiled actions as well as some hard-boiled words already used.

It may be necessary for the President, in his role of the nation's spokesman, to remind Great Britain and the Netherlands that our aid to them is not pure charity. America and the world have a right to demand, in return for this aid, that those two governments conduct themselves in a manner to promote peace, not endanger it.

Both governments must be suffering from a feeling of insecurity as the old order changes and the urge for independence relentlessly asserts itself. But that is no excuse for the British and Dutch to waltz on past promises, to defy UN decisions, to promote strife, or to attempt the impossible project of fostering greater liberty at home and at the same time trying to preserve 19th Century colonialism abroad.

The details may be complex and clouded, but it is clear that both these governments are pursuing a dangerous course. The Dutch at least have been discreet in their diplomatic dealings with us. But the British attitude can scarcely escape the charge of being arrogant, inept and illogical.

Britain accuses Czechoslovakia of providing the Israelis with planes and weapons, and piously cites the UN arms embargo. Meanwhile it unlimbers its own guns and launches planes along the Egyptian border and unloads troops in Trans-Jordan on the eve of scheduled truce talks between Israel and Egypt. A British spokesman attacks the U. S. government's attitude toward Palestine on the same day that a British pilot admits he was shot down by ground fire while flying low over Israeli troops in Palestine territory.

In this situation Mr. Truman has a chance to invoke a solution on moral grounds. His is the strongest voice in the world—not excepting Joseph Stalin's. He can speak from the purest of convictions, and he will be listened to. If he has lacked some courage before, he can take courage now in the cold fact that the Dutch and the English cannot afford to ignore the United States, even for selfish reasons. Thus armed, he can do much to save the United Nations and the peace.

'A Durn Fine Sense Of Propitty'

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—Howdy, stranger. Like our town? Sure I'll be glad to tell you something about it. Sit down and test your feet.

Well, sir, it's small as towns go—only 124 acres. But there's only 54 cities in the U. S. A. with more'n our 160,000 population. We do count our daily visitors in that figure, but the Chamber of Commerce in your town probably does, too.

Of course, your town may not average 128,000 visitors a day. Ours does.

What brings 'em here, stranger? Why, to do business and see the sights—mostly.

Yep, there are only fifteen buildings. But you just tell me where you can find fifteen anywhere like 'em—and I'll eat 'em. Cost $74,000,000, they did.

215 Elevators Inside 'Em
What's inside 'em? Stranger, I'm afraid to begin telling. Well, there's 215 elevators, 10,105,000 rivets and 138,392 tons of steel.

Our town pays $3,000,000 real estate taxes. And we fork out $3,500,000 for rent every year to help keep neighbor "Ike" Eisenhower's seminary running up there in the suburbs. Yes, that's right—Columbia University owns the ground.

What else have we got? Stranger, we got what all you want. You can buy anything here from a canary to Jack Benny. Oh, no, I'm wrong there. Jack Benny was bought out of here the other day.

Well, sir, we got 20 foreign consulates here, two radio networks, 12 airlines, 36 travel bureaus and 20 r. road offices—almost. You can get a passport here, a permanent wave, have your eyeglasses repaired, your teeth filled or your finger bandaged. We even got a drugstore that still sells aspirin tablets. But don't have a hotel or a jail.

Can't Get Buried Here
No, stranger, you can't get buried here. You got me there. But if you're tired of living we got a 70-story building 850 feet tall you can jump off of. It ain't every town that can offer you that. I guess, though, our town isn't for folks in a hurry to die. It's for folks who are living in a hurry—and just die in the process.

What's that? Do we have culture? Why, our town's crawling with culture. We got an outdoor ice and roller skating rink. We got the largest indoor movie parlor in the world—seats 6,200. And it doesn't show double features either.

Culture. You talk about culture. Why, we got schools here where you can learn to play golf or say "parlez vous" in French. We got the largest air-conditioned building in the world—19 stories. We got the largest broadcasting studio in the world. Yep, seats 1,200-housewives usually. Must be wives. There aren't that many men out of work.

Never Was a Town Like Ours
Oh, I tell you, stranger, there never was a town like ours. Sometimes I almost wished I lived in it. We got the fastest moving stairway in the world—125 feet a minute.

Now wait a minute, stranger. I know you're beginning to think I'm

Give Reports At Trinity Church Annual Meeting

The annual parish meeting of Trinity Episcopal church was held recently preceded by Choral Evensong. The Rev. R. M. Harris, rector, presided.

During the business session the vestry for 1949 was elected and is comprised of the following: H. M. Andie, Charles Fawcett, Walter Bellatti, John R. Phillips, W. H. Corey, Charles Frank, Hill Shine, John Craven, W. R. Bellatti, S. V. Weller, and George Horton. Dr. W. B. Hendrickson continues as an honorary member.

Officers are senior warden, H. M. Andie, junior warden, Charles Fawcett, clerk, W. R. Bellatti, and treasurer, John Craven.

Church finances were reported in excellent condition with the budget for 1949 (the largest in the history of the parish) fully underwritten. The condition of the physical properties was notably improved during the past year by extensive renovation and redecoration of the church building and parish hall.

All the church organizations and activities presented reports for 1948. These included the Women's Guild, Women's Fellowship, Trinity Men's Club, Choir, Trinity East Side Boys' Club, St. Vincent's Acolyte Guild, Church School, Young, Twenties Club, Trinity Supper Club and the Altar Guild. Good progress in all departments was shown.

the world's largest outdoor liar. But I ain't. We got a 150-voice choir and 100 statues and murals. Remember the hanging gardens of Babylon, one of the seven wonders of the world? Just a rosebud. We got rooftop garden four times as large.

Who's the big family in our town, stranger? W-e-e-l, we got a lot of big families here. But I guess you might say the Rockefeller's are the biggest. In fact we named our town after them—Rockefeller Center. They own it—pretty much.

One thing about the whole family stranger. They got a durn fine sense of propitty. And the whole thing started from $500. Some time ago, that was.

Questions And Answers ON Service To Veterans

(This is another in a series of questions and answers regarding the rights of ex-servicemen and their families, as answered by Keith C. Peabody, Veterans Employment Representative, Illinois State Employment Service, 211 East Morgan Street, Jacksonville. For further information, contact Mr. Peabody.)
Question: May a veteran cash in on his National Service Life Insurance or does that insurance have any cash value redemption provision? I want to go into business for myself and would like to cash my insurance to secure necessary cash.
Answer: Five-year level premium term NSLI has no cash surrender, loan, paid-up or extended insurance values. This temporary insurance provides protection only; it has no savings value as do the permanent forms (converted) insurance. If you have not converted your term insurance to a permanent plan, there is no cash surrender available to you. However, if you have converted to a permanent plan, and the conversion has been in effect at least one year, you do have a small cash surrender value accrued to your benefit.
Question: My husband a World War II veteran died in an auto accident a few months ago. Since he had dropped his National Service Life Insurance several months before his death, may I now file a claim for recovery of the insurance premiums he paid on it?
Answer: No. It is not possible for you to recover the premiums which your husband paid for his National Service Life Insurance coverage. He had the protection during the time the insurance was in force, and if he had died during that time, you would have received the proceeds, provided, of course, you were named the designated beneficiary. If you were named the designated beneficiary, it is quite possible you may receive whatever dividends will be paid on the insurance he previously carried.
Question: Please advise me when a veteran is required to obtain a Certificate of Eligibility from VA for loan guarantee purposes?
Answer: It is necessary when a veteran is unable to furnish the lender with his original discharge papers, or when his period of service was less than 90 days, or when his service was in the armed forces of a government allied with the United States during World War II.

Union Services Held Each Sunday At White Hall

White Hall—The Ministerial Alliance of White Hall is sponsoring a program of Union Services at the Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian churches each Sunday evening since the first of the New Year. Sunday evening January 16, a fine crowd attended the services at the Methodist church with Rev. Charles Vandertum serving as host minister. The choir was under the direction of organist Mrs. Della Hudson. A special number was given with five members of the Methodist church participating. Rev. Johnston of the First Christian church read the Scripture, with Rev. Wilson of the Presbyterian church bringing the message on "How Big Are We?"

A chicken dinner was held Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nash, honoring the 62nd birthday anniversary of Mr. Nash. Attending were their two daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Perdu and children of Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jones of this city.

The White Hall band, composed of both grade and high school pupils, will present a concert at the high school gymnasium at 8 p. m. Friday, Jan. 28, under the direction of Bandmaster Dudley Hitt.

Mrs. J. W. Campbell spent Sunday with her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. F. L. Crouch in Carlinville. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crouch and children of Rock Island were weekend guests in the Crouch home.

Of all the meats, a ham slice might be called the most "tailored." That's because it can be cut to fit, or suited to, almost any occasion.

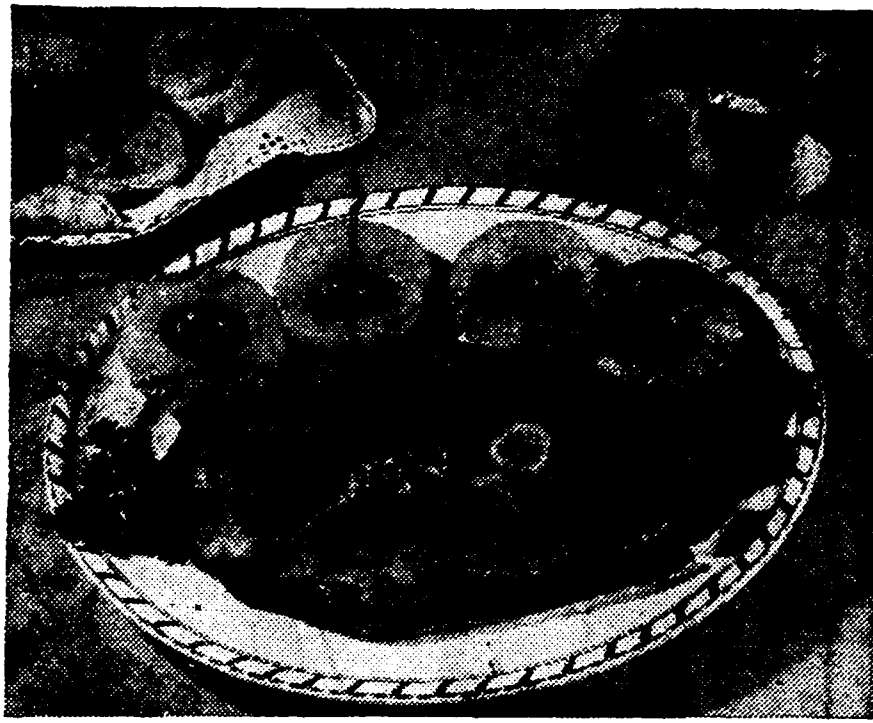

For the small family of two or three a thick juicy ham slice can have as many long-range possibilities as a whole ham does for the larger family. For the larger family it can be cut to any thickness to fit the needs for one meal.

The primary advantages of a ham slice are its flavor, the fact that it is almost solid meat, you can have the ham slice cut as thick as you desire for any use, and the fact that it can be cooked by any of three different ways. These three ways are baking, broiling and pan-broiling. The one you choose will depend on the thickness of your ham slice and your facilities for cooking it.

Roast Thick Slices
The very thickest center-cut sections—sometimes as thick as 3 or 4 inches—are best when baked, or to use a more correct term, roasted. To roast a thick ham slice, place it on a rack in an open shallow roasting pan. Although "use no liquid" is one of the rules for roasting, ham slices are often cooked in the oven and basted with fruit juice or cooked in milk to add a different flavor. Place in a 300° F. oven and roast until done, about 1½ to 2 hours. Baste occasionally during the roasting with the fruit juice.

Broiling is for ham slices ranging from 1 to 2 inches thick—thinner ones should be pan-broiled. Slash the edges of the fat so that the piece will remain flat during cooking. Place the meat on the broiler rack about 3 to 4 inches from the heat

Platter of Goodness

There's a whole platter full of juicy goodness in this broiled ham slice with its accompanying peach halves and cherries. Hot baking powder biscuits are the perfect bread to serve with a meal like this.

source, and broil until lightly browned in the top surface. Turn and broil the other side. The total cooking time for a 1-inch slice will be approximately 16 to 20 minutes.

Broil Garnish, Too

While you're broiling the ham slice is a good time to cook a fruit garnish to accompany it. You might brush banana sections with butter or margarine and broil. Or center halves of fresh or canned peaches with cherries and broil those. You should have no trouble finding an appropriate fruit garnish to go with ham.

Pan-broiling is done in a heavy frying-pan and is distinguished from pan-frying by the fact that the fat is poured off as it accumulates during cooking. Slash the edges of the ham, so that it will remain flat, then cook over low heat. Brown on one side, turn and brown on other. Turn occasionally until done. Pan-broiling takes only about half as long as broiling, in this case about 8 to 10 minutes.

SERVICE PROVEN

Ever since the completion of the City Power Plant in March 1939... many people in Jacksonville have wondered what would happen if an emergency was ever to occur. This last week just such an emergency happened. Our power lines were hard hit by ice formations and falling limbs. From late Monday night until Thursday morning in the vicinity of 500 calls were handled through our office.

Our repair forces were divided into three crews and placed on 24-hour emergency service. In 51 hours time, repairs were made to 20 of our "Supply Feeder Lines" where our main source of trouble was. The repairs were made without any outside help, although the Illinois Public Power Association, which we are a member, offered to send repair crews from Bloomington and Springfield.

The City Street Department helped greatly by clearing fallen limbs and debris on the wires.

For the best in Performance and Service it's....

The American Negro is, by blood, something new in biology, representing crossing of various blood lines from the different African tribes as well as considerable white and American Indian infusions.

MARRIED IN NEW YORK

The marriage of Miss Clare Cava, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August P. Cava of Salinas, Calif., and Dr. Robert H. Dysinger, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wendell S. Dysinger, 404 East State street, took place Dec. 21 in the Greeley Room of the Governor Clinton hotel in New York City.

One end of the room was decorated to resemble a chapel, complete with an improvised altar, at which the double-ring wedding ceremony was performed.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Dysinger of Iowa City, the brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom. For her wedding the bride chose a dress of silver blue lame, worn with a shoulder-length veil of blue tulle, attached to a halo of blue lame. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Social Agencies Will Expand Activities Here

A committee composed of representatives of three organizations has been appointed to prepare a plan of development for the Council of Social Agencies.

The appointment was made at a meeting held at Jacksonville High school Tuesday evening, at which time a proposal calling for the expansion of the council was presented by Dr. Darrell R. Blodgett, chairman of the community service committee.

Lloyd G. Gohn, executive secretary, and Dr. Malcolm Stewart, board member.

Serving on the reorganization committee are Mr. Gohn, representing the community service committee; Wm. McCreey, representing the council; and Carl Hamilton, representing the Community Chest.

The committee is to prepare a plan of expansion whereby the council will be enlarged to include all of the social and civic clubs within the city, all welfare agencies, both public and private, and municipal groups.

At present the council is comprised of the Y.M.C.A., the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society.

Besides encompassing a larger group of organizations, the council would, under the proposed plan for development, broaden its scope of services.

Community Planning Group
It would exist primarily as a community planning body, its ultimate aim to successfully channel the facilities of the various clubs and organizations engaged in community projects. This would eliminate duplication of efforts on any single project.

The results of a recent survey conducted by the community service committee will be the basis for one of the first projects the council will be asked to undertake.

Young People's Activities
The survey was made through the schools, both grade and high, in an effort to determine the recreation habits of the young people of the community. The students were asked to tell how they spent their leisure time and to enlist their preferences of recreational activities.

This and other projects, designed for the betterment of the community, will be under council direction if the plan for reorganization meets with approval.

H. L. Caldwell, chairman, presided over the meeting Tuesday. Paul T. Hartman was named secretary.

She is survived by her husband and one sister, Miss Henrietta Roegge of Jacksonville.

Mrs. Tholen was a lifelong member of the Lutheran church. Funeral services will be held at the residence Sunday at 2 p. m. and from St. Paul's Lutheran church northwest of Chapin at 2:30 p. m., with the Rev. H. A. Timm officiating. Burial will be in the Grace cemetery near the church.

The body is at the Schaefer Funeral Home at Mercedia and will be taken to the residence Saturday at 10:30 a. m.

Crowd Watches Inauguration By Television

Television was seen clearly in Jacksonville Thursday morning when a broadcast of the inauguration of President Truman was received on a T-V set at the Jacksonville Novelty company.

People started crowding into the store shortly after the set began operating at 10:30 a. m. The crowd was able to view the inaugural parade down Pennsylvania avenue, as well as seeing Harry S. Truman and Alben Barkley take their oaths of office.

The reception was excellent, according to Joe Boyle, manager. The event could be clearly seen and all sounds came through perfectly, including the band music and Truman's inaugural address.

The broadcast was from a St. Louis radio station, and was received on a temporary hook-up, with the aerial wired to the chimney.

Members Of Home Bureau Suggest Program Topics

"Ideas for Future Programs" was the topic of roll call answered by ten members at the meeting of the Ebenezer Home Bureau Unit, held Wednesday with Miss Ruby DeWeese and Mrs. Lee Spradlin at the home of Miss DeWeese, 1617 South Main street.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. C. W. Mason. The secretary-treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. B. A. Bollman.

Plans were made for attending the lesson on "Leathercraft" and also for a unit lesson on "Textile Painting." Mrs. Charles Morris became a member of the unit.

Martha and Mickey Are Moony

Mickey Rooney, who likes his wives taller than he is, has announced his engagement to Martha Vickers, who towers six inches above the films' Andy Hardy. Mickey and Martha must wait until her divorce from publicity man A. C. Lyles is final. "They're in love, they're very happy and he gave her a ring," said Rooney's manager, Sam Steiffel. "What the future holds, God knows. They'll talk about that after she's divorced."

25th Anniversary Is Observed By Meredosia Couple

Meredosia—A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the parish hall of St. John's Lutheran church Sunday afternoon to extend best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Ray McAllister, who on that day were observing their 25th wedding anniversary.

Increased luggage space in all 1949 Studebaker models has been announced by the company as among a long list of improvements in its passenger cars. ## Most Commodity Prices Slumped Since Nov. 1st

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Prices of most commodities have slumped since Nov. 1, the day prior to President Truman's re-election, a survey disclosed today. However, there have been exceptions to the declining trend.

Losses for the most part have been moderate, although eggs, lard and livestock have dropped quite a bit. The Associated Press wholesale commodity index closed yesterday at 174.17, a new 1948-49 low, compared with 178.20 on Nov. 1.

Over the past few weeks the big decline has come in what are termed fats and oils. These are used extensively in the cooking field as shortening. Lard at Chicago, for example, sold at 19.62 cents a pound wholesale on Nov. 1 but yesterday was 12.87 cents.

Cottonseed oil, used in making oleomargarine as well as many other products, now brings 14 cents a pound compared with a record high for 40 cents. Tallow, used to make soap, is selling at 9 cents a pound.

Christian Church At Carrollton Has Annual Meeting

Carrollton—The Rev. Elmer C. Johnston of White Hall, pastor of the local Christian church, attended the annual business meeting and potluck dinner of the Christian church held Sunday following the morning worship service.

The reports of the church officers and committees was given and an election of officers was held. The officers elected on the church official board were R. D. Lemons, chairman; Leslie Shaffer, Mrs. W. G. Buhner, Mrs. Fred Ashlock, Thayne King, Mrs. Clara Russell, Mrs. J. T. English and S. E. Pierson. Trustees elected were Mrs. Fred Ashlock, Mrs. J. T. English and Mrs. S. E. Pierson. Mrs. W. G. Buhner is secretary and Mrs. Fred Ashlock treasurer. Robert Liles was elected superintendent of the Sunday School, with Leslie Shaffer as assistant. Leroy Wheeler is the Sunday School secretary with Robert Shaffer as assistant and Thayne King is the Sunday School treasurer. The pianist for both church and Sunday school is Miss Betty Lemons, with Miss Julia Pierson as assistant.

Plans were also made concerning a supper and business meeting of the church which will be held Sunday evening, Jan. 23, at which time an out of town speaker will be present.

The Indian caste system, in steps leading down, were the Brahmins, originally priests and scholars; the Kshatriya or warriors; now Rajputs; the Vaisya or merchant group; the Sudra, or followers of "clean occupations"; and finally, Untouchables, originally assigned to the lowest of mental labors.

Bogota Starts To Rebuild After Riots

Bogota, Colombia—(P)—This city, torn by revolutionary riots less than nine months ago, is the scene of reconstruction today and steps have been taken toward healing political wounds. While new buildings are going up, the trend toward national unity which emerged from riots last April 9 has led to a reform in the voting system.

Leaders of both the Liberal and Conservative parties expressed belief that the election reforms, voted by Congress as a bipartisan measure, would do much to make Colombian political factions get along "better with one another."

Conservative President Mariano Ospina Perez reorganized his cabinet after the April riots, with participation of Liberals. His "unity cabinet" worked out a program of pacification to permit ending of martial law, plans for reconstruction of Bogota, and proposed the electoral reforms which Congress approved.

Under the new electoral law, a supreme electoral tribunal is set up, with equal participation for Liberals and Conservatives. The objective is to make it as bipartisan as possible, and obviate charges that national and local election boards work for the interests of the party in power.

Each voted will fingerprint his ballot. The first election under the new registration system will be next spring for congress and department assemblies. The next presidential election will be in the summer of 1950. The plan has been criticized by some liberals who claim the conservatives have advantages, but the liberal newspaper "El Tiempo" calls the system "a victory for Colombian democracy."

Some modern buildings are going up in commercial sections of Bogota where riots ripped through whole blocks in the outbreaks beginning last April 9 during the Pan American Conference. The government obtained a loan of $10,000,000 from the Export-Import Bank for repairing the city. Fires and looting had destroyed many stores. Present space may permit widening of colonial type streets.

Storekeepers, who suffered great losses in the fires and riots, are recuperating rapidly and during the Christmas holidays recorded an enormous volume of sales. Military police continue their patrols in the city. In other places the regular army is on police duty because of the discharge of the national police for desertion during the riots. President Ospina Perez has authorized amnesty for purely political prisoners and some have been released.

The country had practically returned to normal months before the raising of the states of siege Dec. 17, and political tension had died out with the exception of some provincial areas where sporadic incidents occurred. Raising the martial law which had been on for 251 days had little effect on the common citizen. His freedom of speech and his liberty to move about or attend public meetings were not under severe restrictions. Legislative bodies met normally but municipal councils were adjourned.

Various labor and political assemblies took place. Some radio stations were closed and stations were generally restricted regarding transmission of news and political speeches. Some restrictions of radio news programs remain, due to a measure that places full responsibility on the station owner.

Malay Red Killers Have Own Code

Malay, Johore State, Malayan Federation—(P)—"Respect women. Be sure to be fair in business dealings."

Boy Scout slogans or the code of a businessmen's club, perhaps?

No, those are part of lesson one in how to be a Communist terrorist.

Strange as it appears, the Red gunmen who have made the murder of unarmed planters, foremen and anti-Communist workers the chief weapon in their Malayan revolt take a basic course of instruction in how to make friends and become popular.

The Seaforth Highlanders, a crack Scots regiment, finds Communists' belongings pathetically few. Each has an extra pair of short pants, a sock filled with rice, a toothbrush, dentifrice, a shirt—and a notebook.

Written in each notebook is the same set of "general orders."

Here's what the Communist recruit is taught as soon as he joins up:

"1. Absolute obedience must be enforced at all times.

"2. Eliminate all traitors (literally, "running dogs") and all those who would harm the peoples of Malaya.

"3. Be careful what you say—the rubber trees have ears.

"4. Be sure to be fair in business dealings.

"5. Share all property with your comrades.

"6. Respect women.

"7. Create a spirit of fellowship in the Malayan Peoples Anti-British Army (Name of Communist force)."

Officers of the Highlanders say all that is lesson one in the Red indoctrination.

With the Chinese, Malays, and Indians all siding with the British against the small Red force, the 3,000 to 4,000 Communist insurgents are finding the going increasingly tough.

In Czech 'Free Market' You Could Buy A Tie For $12

Prague, January—(P)—Czechoslovaks got their first look at the high prices in the government's "free market" stores which opened today.

You could get a necktie for $12. Children's overcoats would set you back $58. Women's skirts were $78 and underpants $20.

Prices were up 50 to 450 per cent over last week. On the "free market" you don't need ration coupons. But the government announced ration goods are subject to a big increased tax, too.

Premier Antonin Zapotocky explained at a newsconference that the country's high priced "free markets" are intended to be only temporary, and are aimed at wiping out the black market.

Only stores designated by the communist-dominated government may carry the "free market" goods.

Joe Hutton Says Defense Makes Unbeaten Cagers

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 20.—(P)—Want to be a successful basketball coach? And have your teams among the few unbeaten squads in the country? And win the title in your conference year after year?

It's not so hard, Joe Hutton, athletic director and basketball coach at Hamline University of St. Paul, says so. Just accent defense.

There are some other things, too, he says, but he's convinced his consistently accented defense will work wonders. And the showing of his teams over the years backs him up.

Thus far this year Hamline hasn't lost a game in 12 starts. That includes four games against Minnesota Intercollegiate conference foes and six games in tournaments at Denver and Los Angeles—both of which Hamline won.

N. Y. Giants Plan To Slice Salary Of Walker Cooper

Buckner, Mo., Jan. 20.—(P)—Walker Cooper was satisfied today with the recovery of his left knee—but he had other troubles.

The big catcher was concerned over plans of the New York Giants to trim his baseball salary by $7,500. He received $30,000 last year.

Injured during the first week of the past season, Cooper's knee was operated on by Dr. Robert Hyland of St. Louis Dec. 7. An earlier operation was performed last May. Cooper says it has responded perfectly.

"The seven weeks I lost last season because of the injury handicapped my playing considerably," Cooper said, "but I can't take a $7,500 cut. Dr. Hyland said my knee would be as good as new and I'm convinced it will be."

The $7,500 would be a maximum slash. Under a major league player-management agreement, a salary cut cannot exceed 25 per cent.

Cooper said he hadn't corresponded with the Giants about the salary cut, but that he would see Leo Durocher either in St. Louis or Kansas City February 1, and perhaps the difficulties could be ironed out then.

The husky, long-ball hitter, who appeared in three world series with the St. Louis Cardinals and in four all-star games, appeared in good physical condition. His present weight, he said, is 214 pounds, only slightly under his normal playing weight.

Waverly, Petersburg Annex Wins At Ashland

Finals Tonight
Chandlerville vs. Ashland (consolation 7:15 p. m.)
Waverly vs. Petersburg (championship 8:30 p. m.)

Waverly and Petersburg annexed wins in the Ashland tournament semi-finals last night after two thrilling battles with the host club and Chandlerville.

Waverly eked out a 56 to 55 victory over the Ashland five in the first game of the evening, after the hosts had led by a few markers throughout the contest. Peters led the Waverly drive with 24 points, while Bergsneider, Ashland center, kept his team in the running while garnering 16 tallies.

Petersburg Nips Chandlerville
The second battle of the evening was waged between the Petersburg and Chandlerville crews. Chandlerville after holding a 27 to 20 edge at halftime, lost their advantage in the third and fell behind the Petersburg crew by one point. The winners continued to gain momentum in the last frame and increased their lead to 4 counters and won the tussle 53 to 49.

Scoring was very evenly divided among the five starters on the Petersburg quint, with Minder, a forward, netting 13. Aman's 11 markers was high for Chandlerville.

The finals will get underway at 7:15 this evening when Ashland meets Chandlerville in the consolation match. Waverly and Petersburg will tangle for the championship at 8:30.

Hosts, Rushville Win Tourney Tilts At Winchester

Semi-Finals Tonight
Rushville vs. Rushville 7 p. m.
Winchester vs. Carrollton 8:30 p. m.

The number one and two rated teams in the Winchester tournament copped their quarter-final tilts with comparative ease last night.

The host club, after a stiff first-half tussle, pulled away from Hardin after the intermission to win an 86 to 62 cage bout. The Wildcats netted 21 points in the first quarter and held a 21 to 15 advantage at the end of this period. Both clubs began to play a race-horse style of basketball in the second stanza and in a very fast 8 minutes of basketball, Hardin pulled into a tie with the host crew.

Winchester Strong After Halt
Winchester came back strong after the intermission, and turned on the heat to pile up the amazing total of 86 points and take the contest in a breeze. Reggie Hankins led the Scott county outfit with 22 points. The big center dropped in 8 out of 9 free throws to help pile up his 22-point total. Kinser was high to the loser with 26 tallies.

Rushville Routs Mt. Sterling
The number-one ranking team in the meet, Rushville, breezed through the Green Hornets from Mt. Sterling in the other semifinal bout to take a 71 to 39 decision from the Brown county aggregation.

With Patterson, Rushville center, leading the parade, the winners took an early lead and never relinquished their advantage to the Hornet squad. Patterson scored 23 points for Rushville, while O'Connell's 12 was high for Mt. Sterling.

HANKINS SCORES FOR WINCHESTER

Reggie Hankins, No. 55, is caught by the camera-man as he slips in a field from the side for the host club in a first-round bout between Winchester and White Hall in the 27th annual Winchester tourney. The big Wildcat pivot man netted 25 tallies in this contest which his team won handily by a 76 to 35 margin.

Other players identified in the photo are: No. 4, Wyatt; No. 12, Strong; No. 8, Milnes; and the player attempting to stop Hankins from scoring is identified as Blacketter. All of these players are wearing Maroon colors.

The Winchester crew, by virtue of their win over White Hall, will tangle with Hardin in a quarter-final bout Thursday evening at 8:30 p. m. The Wildcats topped Hardin 82 to 61 in the quarter-finals last night, and will meet Carrilton in a semi-final bout tonight.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(P)—Prices on live hogs slipped 25 to 50 cents a hundred weight today while cattle were steady to 50 cents lower and sheep active and firm.

Most good and choice butcher hogs ranged between $17.75 and $21.25 with the top going to $21.50. Sows brought $15 to $17.75. An estimated 2,000 head remained unsold at the close of trading.

Best cattle price was $1 for a load of Colorado steers grading high-choice. Medium to high-grade steers and yearlings brought $20 to $25 and medium to choice heifers $19.50 to $25. The practical top on beef cows was $17 and odd head of good weighty sausage bulls brought as high as $22.75. Vealers topped at $4.

Grain Price Trends Are Mostly Lower In Slow Trading
Chicago, Jan. 20.—(P)—Price trends were mostly lower on the Board of Trade today in a dull session.

An exception to the slump was corn. The yellow cereal held fractionally above its previous close most of the day. Independent firmness in this grain was attributed by traders to government buying of the cash article.

Cash soybeans bought corn futures, presumably lifting hedges against sales of the cash grain to the government. The Commodity Credit Corporation announced it bought 1,771,000 bushels of corn here and 130,000 bushels at Kansas City yesterday.

Soybeans and lard were ahead in early dealings, aided by a recovery of 1 to 1.5 cent a pound in vegetable oil prices in the east. But selling increased toward the close and early gains were lost.

Receipts were: wheat 17 cars, corn 226, oats 14 and soybeans 5. Wheat closed 14-15 lower, May $2.23-24; corn was 1 lower to 1.5 cent lower, May 72-8; oats were 1-1.5 lower, May $1.64; soybeans were 1-1.5 to 2 cents lower, March $2.44-$2.43, and lard was 8 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $14.40.

Former Cass Cager Wins For Arkansas
Virginia—Thomas J. Charles, former local basketball star, received a big ovation for dropping in the winning score in a tightly fought battle between Little Rock Junior College, in which he is enrolled, and Arkansas College. The Little Rock papers 11 gave him headline billing for the final tally.

The final score was Little Rock College Trojans, 53; Arkansas College Highlanders, 51.

Following the game Charles was carried from the floor on the shoulders of his teammates and was later guest of honor at a banquet.

Charles was always considered a threat while playing for the local high school. He is taking a pre-dental course at the school.

Blueboy Quintet Drops 66-52 Fray To Eastern State

After displaying some fine basketball in the first half, the Illinois College Blueboys weakened in the final minutes of play and dropped a 66 to 52 tilt to Eastern Illinois State Teachers College at Charleston last night.

The Millermen gained control of the ball game in the early minutes, and displayed a sterling brand of ball to stay on top in the contest. They held a 29 to 26 halftime edge over the teachers, who had beaten them once previously this season on the ISD boards.

Host Take Lead
After the intermission the host club jumped into a four point lead, but the Blueboys fought back to stay in the game until with five minutes to go the teachers' quint began to pull away.

Using a fast break, the Charleston club, snatched several rebounds off the IC backboard and converted them into buckets. The local college five, on the other hand, was unable to hit in the waning minutes, and could not regain control of the ball game. Bill Shouse, Blueboy guard, was still suffering from a leg injury received in the Eureka fray earlier this week, and was not as potent as he has been in previous games this winter.

Blueboys Are Complemented
Although they lost the battle, Al Miller, Hilltop mentor, had every reason to be proud of his crew. Eastern State athletic director, Lantz, commented to the Blueboy coach after the game, that the IC quint was the best team he had ever seen play on the teachers' boards.

The IC cagers go into battle again Saturday night when they trek to Blackburn for a hoop tussle.

Louise Suggs Leads In Tampa Golf Tournament
Tampa, Fla., Jan. 20.—(P)—Louise Suggs, playing in her first tournament as a professional, shared the lead at 74 with Amateurs Marjorie Linday and Peggy Kirk in the opening round of the Tampa Women's Open golf tournament here today.

That is four over men's par and one under women's standards for the 6,093-yard Palma Ceda course.

All three played steady golf with few sparkling shots over the tricky layout.

Mrs. Babe Zaharias, who sailed over the course for record lows of 67 and 66 in practice, zoomed up to 78. Mrs. Zaharias, winner of this event in 1946, started off well but got progressively worse. She had 38-40.

Cold War Between Pro Grid Loops Still Raging
Chicago, Jan. 20.—(P)—Hostilities apparently still raged between the All-America Conference and the rival National Football League today as the owners of the two circuits continued to go their separate ways.

The All-America owners are meeting in the Stevens Hotel—just across the street from the Blackstone Hotel where the National League nabobs opened their meeting today, but a true in the costly box-office war between the two circuits appeared unlikely.

Benjamin F. Lindheimer, chairman of the All-America's executive committee, declared after an executive meeting of the "AC's" eight club owners yesterday:

"The All-America Conference will continue."

His statement, which came after a four-hour meeting apparently ended all hope of any merger or football peace with the National League. He said no peace meetings had been arranged with representatives of the National loop. Bert Bell, commissioner of the NFL, also said he had not received any notification or request from the AAC for any peace talks.

Whether the All-America conference will continue to operate as an eight-team circuit or with six clubs minus the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Chicago Rockets—was slated to be decided at another executive session of the AAC today, Lindheimer said.

Arenzville Tamps Murrayville
In the semi-final curtain raiser the Arenzville kid cagers had to come from behind to take a 29 to 20 cage tussle from the Murrayville aggregation. Trailing 9 to 6 going in to the second quarter, the Arenzville quint staged a drive in the second canto which netted them 10 points and limited the Murrayville outfit to 2. This gave Arenzville a 16 to 11 advantage at halftime, and they were never headed in the remaining two stanzas.

Crimsons And Tigers Play In Jacksonville, Rockets To Arenzville

The Jacksonville Crimsons and ISD Tigers will entertain Havana and Tallula fives on their respective floors in hardwood conflicts tonight, and Paul Stroud's Rockets trek to Arenzville to throw all three of the local prep teams into action.

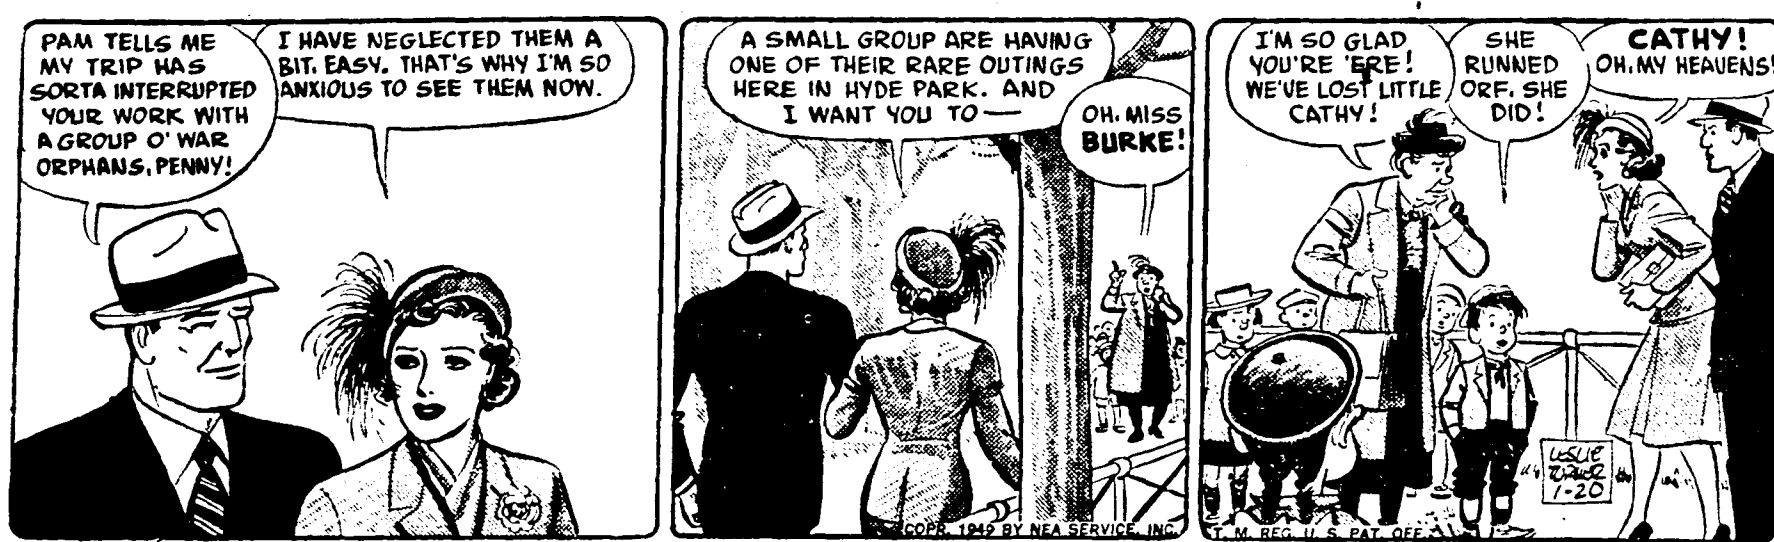

Bob Kraushaar, faceu with the loss of Stan Spotts, high-scoring guard, after the end of January, has been experimenting extensively with his squad the past week, and points out that local fans will see several new faces on the boards against Havana in the David Prince gym at 6:45 this evening. Although enjoying only moderate success this season, the Crimsons five has encountered several tough quintets in hoop battles and their 5-8 record is not to be taken lightly.

The Kraushaarsmen lost to fine quintets when they faced Quincy, Rock Island, Pawnee, Beardstown and Lanphier. Another loss was marked on their record sheet when they went against Routt Rockets at ISD and dropped the contest by a one-point margin.

XXX
MERRY awoke in the morning, puzzled at first to account for the wide-open windows through which a golden sun shone, and the tops of palms stirring in the ocean wind, and the sound of surf breaking on the beach beyond the seawall. And then she realized that she was at home at St. Vincent's and sprang out of bed, happy and excited and exulting in her well-being.

She tumbled into play-clothes—a brief pink and white gingham skirt over even briefer pink shorts, a halter confining her young breasts—and thrust her bare feet into canvas-strapped sandals.

She followed the delicious scent of coffee and crisp bacon out to the kitchen where Lizzie welcomed her with an expansive, white-toothed grin.

"Honey, I sho' is glad to see you home ag'in," Lizzie greeted her warmly. "Whe' yo' want yo' breakfast?"

"Where do Mother and Carter—"

"Yo' Maw, she hev' her breakfast in bed. Mist' Carter, he go to a swim, den he eat wid' he," said Lizzie, and though the words were innocent enough the tone told Merry that Lizzie disliked Carter as much or perhaps even more than she said.

"Then I'll have mine here on the corner of the table, while you bring me up to date on all the local gossip."

Lizzie chuckled as she brought a tall glass of orange juice, and set bread to toasting.

"Yo' tell me how Mist' Kim is fust, Honey," begged Lizzie.

"He's fine, Lizzie. And terribly happy."

Lizzie, breaking a brown egg over the pan in which bacon was crisping, looked swiftly at her.

"Honey, I sho' is glad. Mist' Kim a fine man. He misses him, Andy and me."

TEARS misted Merry's eyes, a tribute to the woman's honest, straightforward devotion to Kim, and then she smiled.

Lizzie took away the orange-juice glass, slipped a hot plate that held strips of curling bacon and a white and golden egg before her, and stood with her hands on her ample hips, smiling down at Merry.

Merry put up an impulsive hand and squeezed one of Lizzie's and said huskily, "It's grand to be home, Lizzie."

Lizzie hesitated a moment and then she said gravely, "Reckon yo' ain' heard, honey, dat me an' Andrew is wakin' out each notice."

Merry stared at her, stricken.

"Your notice? Lizzie, you're not leaving?"

"Us is been fished, Honey. 'Course us was 'bout ready to quit, anyhow."

Merry's eyes were saucer-wide.

"Why, Lizzie, you and Andrew have been with us for years!"

"Mist' Carter, he ain' lak' us much no' den us lak' his," stated Lizzie flatly. "He say we's fresh an' impident an' he wants yo' Maw to git white se'vants."

Merry blinked, and swallowed hard.

"Don' yo' worry none, Honey," said Lizzie after a moment. "Me an' Andrew, we's got some money saved up, and den we got dat lil' farm whe' ouah boy an' his wife lives, so us'll git along fine."

"Lizzie, would you and Andrew go back to Marshallville with me and live in the old place?" begged Merry swiftly.

Lizzie's eyes widened.

"Honey, yo' Maw ain' gwine let yo'."

"Lizzie, I'm almost 18. In a few months I'll be my own mistress. It's my house. Dad fixed it up so it would always be mine, and Aunt Jane will come and live with us. Oh, Lizzie, let's go back to Marshallville!" pleaded Merry, excited and eager.

Lizzie's own eyes were blazing with excitement.

"Honey, dat 'partment me and Andy had over de garage was de onlies' home we eve' had. Honey, us be too glad to go back wid' yo'!" said Lizzie, and her rich, warm voice shook a little.

Merry sprang up and hugged her.

"Oh, Lizzie, I'm so happy!"

Carter's voice, curt and sharp, spoke from the doorway.

"I dislike to interrupt this happy little scene, but Mrs. Bagby would like some breakfast, if it isn't too much trouble."

MERRY turned and faced him, and Lizzie muttered something and turned to the stove, her thick lower lip stuck out in a sign of her anger and outrage.

"Merry, I'd like to speak to you for a moment," said Carter, and strode away.

Lizzie turned deliberately from the stove, faced the doorway through which Carter had disappeared, brought up her thick, unashamedly work-worn hand, put her thumb to her nose and twiddled her fat fingers. It was a gesture of such superb scorn, such utter contempt, that Merry smothered a small, delighted laugh, hugged her and fled.

In the room that was obviously now to be known as Carter's study, he turned to face Merry and said sternly, "Merry, I dislike to seem carping, but I must ask you to behave with a little more dignity here. Embracing the servants, chattering with them, destroying all semblance of discipline, is something I will not tolerate."

Merry balanced herself on the arm of a chair and smiled at him pleasantly. It was no effort; she had to make an effort to avoid laughing outright at the ridiculous picture of him standing on his outraged dignity.

"Then you'll be happy to know you needn't tolerate it, or me either, any longer, Carter," she told him lightly. "I shall be leaving for Marshallville in a day or two."

State Democrats Join Big Inaugural Parade

Washington, Jan. 20—(AP)—"Illinois-united in happy harmony."

That was proclaimed in big letters on the Prairie State's float that followed Gov. Stevenson in today's three-hour presidential inaugural parade.

The harmony, said the Illinois slogan, unites "labor, industry and agriculture."

The young ladies representing this triumvirate on the float smiled bravely into a chilling wind, but the skies were sunny for the occasion. The big crimson cellophane heart of Chicago's float looked much warmer.

So did the inscription: "Chicago's heart turned the tide of victory for Truman and Barkley."

Gov. Stevenson's convertible moved into the line of the parade between the displays of Mississippi and Alabama.

As he made the turn into Constitution avenue, the governor doffed his pearl gray felt hat in response to a "Hi Ya Guy" greeting from a group of teen agers.

The girls were from Richmond, Va.
